Preface

Our work at Brisbane Catholic Education (BCE) is important, sacred work, underpinned by Christian teachings and values, and a strong Catholic identity.

Our employees have a significant influence in carrying out our mission to teach, challenge and transform. I am proud of the commitment of our employees to provide high quality learning, teaching, administration and support services.

This Code of Conduct (Code) has been prepared to enable all employees, whether they work in schools or in the office, to share a common understanding of how we expect our employees to act. As employees, we demonstrate our values by behaving professionally and conscientiously and by ensuring that our schools and workplaces are safe, supportive, respectful and co-operative.

We are committed to ensuring that young people in our schools are safe and protected from harm. This Code provides details on the standard of behaviour required of employees in maintaining professional boundaries and high standards of professional conduct in their interactions with students and the community.

I feel confident that employees will familiarise themselves with this Code and the required standards of behaviour. Please be assured of my prayerful support for employees in implementing our shared vision for Catholic education.

- 14.7 As a sign of gratitude, employees may be offered small gifts: for example, suppliers, parents/carers or students may give a small gift of thanks. However, in some circumstances receiving a gift may create a Conflict of Interest, a sense of obligation, undermine an employee's (or another employee's) impartiality or affect the reputation of BCE. Employees must ensure that the acceptance of a gift does not influence, or be seen to influence, their decision making. If an employee is unsure about accepting a gift, please email BCE on codeofconduct@bne.catholic.edu.au.

16. Professional Behaviour with Students

16.1 BCE is committed to providing a positive learning environment that minimises the risk of harm and which supports students' wellbeing. Employees are expected to conduct themselves in a way that reflects this commitment and complies with the professional boundaries contained in this section 16. Employees must take action to keep students safe. Employees must report behaviour of other employees towards a student that may contravene this Code. Failure to report breaches of this Code by employees or ignoring behaviours may place a student at risk of harm and may result in disciplinary action against the employee who fails to report.

16.2 Employees must act appropriately and professionally at all times in their interactions with students, including outside school hours, to ensure that they maintain professional boundaries and are a positive role model for students.

16.3 BCE expects employees to establish and maintain professional, positive relationships with students and show respect, courtesy and consideration to students.

16.4 Employees must use and develop effective, consistent and appropriate management strategies for their interactions with students as a preventative system of behaviour support. The strategies must be in accordance with the school's Student Behaviour Support Plan. Where an individual behaviour support plan has been developed for a student, employees are required to act in accordance with that plan.

16.5 If an employee, after first complying with section 14 of this Code, (Managing Conflicts of Interest), provides any services to a student outside school hours (for example; coaching, tutoring, counselling, training), the employee's obligations in this Code will continue to apply to the employee's conduct with students in providing these services.

16.6 Employees working with students in BCE schools hold a special position of trust, care and authority with students. Employees must set clear professional boundaries in their interactions with students and ensure that they maintain appropriate physical, emotional and behavioural boundaries with students.

16.7 Where an employee has a close personal relationship with the parents/carers of a student or his/her family, the employee must report that conflict of interest to the Principal, who will manage this conflict.

The following self-assessment may assist employees in assessing and managing their professional boundaries.

- Am I dealing with a particular student in a different manner than with others?
- Would I do or say this if a colleague or parent/carer was present?
- Is my dress/availability/language different with a particular student?
- Are the consequences of my actions likely to have negative outcomes?
- Are my personal feelings translating into inappropriate actions?

Physical Boundaries with Students

- 16.8 Corporal punishment is prohibited in BCE schools. Corporal punishment involves the application of physical force to punish or correct a student.
- 16.9 Employees may only make physical contact with a student if the physical contact is appropriate and reasonable for the behaviour, teaching, support, management or care of the student. The contact must also be appropriate given the age, maturity, health or other characteristics of the student. Physical contact with a student must be consistent with any behaviour plan in place for the student. Where physical contact with a student is a necessary part of the learning or teaching experience, employees must exercise caution to ensure that the contact is appropriate and acceptable for the duty to be performed.
- 16.10 Physical interventions by an employee with a student (including restraint or removal of a student) are only appropriate as a measure of last resort to ensure safety and protection. Acceptable instances of physical intervention are restricted to occasions when the student or other persons are being harmed or at risk of imminent harm (harm to property is not a relevant consideration for employees). The physical intervention and force used must be reasonable in the circumstances.
- 16.11 Employees must respect physical boundaries with students.

Examples of situations in which physical contact with a student may be appropriate include:

- assessing a student who is injured or ill where some touching may be required (employees should advise the student of what they intend to do and, where possible, seek the student's consent)
- teaching sport, music and other activities where touching a student may be required to demonstrate a particular action or skill
- guiding a student in a non-threatening manner
- comforting a distressed student in an appropriate manner, for example, by a pat on the arm or shoulder.

The following are examples of physical boundary violations with students:

- using force to manage or direct a student's behaviour (pushing, pulling, grabbing, poking, shoving, throwing)
- using force to correct or punish a student (hitting with an object, punching, kicking, pinching, shaking)
- refusing a student's biological necessities (disregarding or refusing a student's reasonable request to access food, drink or use a toilet)
- inappropriately touching or massaging a student (patting a student on his/her bottom, stroking a student's hair, massaging a student during a sports carnival)
- applying painful or noxious conditions to a student (exposing a student to protracted physical management techniques such as standing still for an unreasonable length of time, making a student pick up rubbish or reach into a rubbish bin without protective gear e.g. gloves).

Professional Behaviour of Employees

Emotional Boundaries with Students

16.12 Employees must respect the emotional needs, dignity and well-being of students and ensure that they do not violate appropriate emotional boundaries with students.

The following are examples of emotional boundary violations with students:

- shaming, embarrassing or humiliating students (teasing, sarcasm, belittling, derogatory remarks)
- using unprofessional criticism (comments that target the student rather than the behaviour)
- making overly familiar or personal commentary (comments about a student's personal appearance)
- intimidating behaviours (shouting at or in the presence of students, use of threats and fear)
- commenting on, or gossiping about a student's personal matters, for example, about a court case involving a student.

Behavioural Boundaries with Students

16.13 Employees must respect behavioural boundaries with students. Employees must not develop a relationship with a student that is, or that could be seen to be, a personal rather than professional relationship. Employees must ensure that they treat all students consistently without inappropriate familiarity or spending 'special time' with a student.

16.14 Where a personal relationship exists between an employee and a student (such as a family relationship), the employee must declare that relationship to the Principal/Manager by using the BCE Conflict of Interest Declaration Procedure, at the earliest opportunity.

16.15 BCE's procedures in relation to transporting students must be complied with by employees. Employees must not drive a student in their vehicle unless they have first obtained the specific written permission of the parents/carers and the Principal.

16.16 Employees must not spend time alone or remain in a confined, isolated or secluded space with a student, which in the context of the program/activity/occasion, a reasonable person would consider inappropriate.

16.17 Employees must not use a personal device (e.g. personal camera, personal mobile phone, iPad, or personal video recorder, etc.) to take, record, or store any student information (e.g., phone number, email address, etc.) recordings, or images, unless they have obtained the prior approval of the student's parents/carers and their Principal and there is a reasonably justifiable and appropriate educational context. Any digital material captured should be transferred to a BCE digital place of storage as soon as reasonably possible and permanently deleted from the personal device.

16.18 Employees must ensure that they do not violate appropriate behavioural boundaries with students.

The following are examples of behavioural boundary violations with students:

- inappropriate use of Social Media in relation to a student e.g. accepting a "friend" request, "liking" a post or image, "following" or contacting students on or through Social Media
- personal emails, texts, phone calls or other forms of personal communication with a student
- gift giving or showing special favours
- disclosing inappropriate personal information to a student
- sharing personal belongings/materials and/or photographs/videos/other media with students without an appropriate professional reason
- sharing secrets with a student
- inappropriate questioning of a student about personal and private matters
- overly familiar social interactions with students including in staff offices, classrooms, on excursions, camps or at sporting activities
- addressing students in an overly familiar way (i.e. using pet names)
- providing a personal email address, residential address, mobile or home telephone number to students
- engaging in social activities with students (where there is no declared personal relationship) outside school
- driving students without appropriate authority
- visiting students at home without appropriate authority
- permitting students to use facilities and/or spaces designated for use by employees (for example, employee toilet and/or change facilities) without a reasonable explanation
- spending significant time alone with a student other than to perform an employee's professional duties or without reasonable explanation.

Using unprofessional language:

- swearing at or in the presence of a student
- making inappropriate comments to or in the presence of a student.

Failing to follow Student Behaviour Support Policy and Procedures:

- using unreasonable, unfair and/or unjust disciplinary measures
- imposing manifestly unreasonable expectations or excessive demands on a student
- using inappropriate locations or social isolation outside of the school's behaviour support guidelines as punishment.

Using a personal device or private email address to make contact with a student (unless there is an appropriate authority).

- recording, photographing, or videoing a student using a school device for a purpose other than an appropriate and professional educational reason. Recording, photographing or videoing a student on a personal device should not occur except as specified in 16.17.

Supplying substances to a student (e.g. unauthorised medication, tobacco, alcohol, illicit drugs).

Exposing students to material that contains adult content, material that is contrary to the values and/or beliefs of the Catholic Church, or themes that are offensive or inappropriate for the age and/or maturity of the student.

Professional Behaviour of Employees

17. Inappropriate Relationships and Sexual Misconduct with Students

- 17.1 Employees must not engage in an inappropriate relationship or sexual misconduct with a student.
- 17.2 Employees must not have a romantic or sexual relationship with a student. It is irrelevant whether the relationship is lawful, consensual or condoned by parents/carers. An employee must immediately discourage and reject any romantic or sexual advances by a student and immediately report the matter to their Principal/Manager.
- 17.3 Only a professional relationship between employees and students is acceptable. Sexual abuse or likely sexual abuse of a student will be reported by BCE to the Queensland Police Service in accordance with the BCE Student Protection Processes. As a result of the relationship of trust between an employee and student, any reasonable suspicions or allegations of a sexual relationship between an employee and a student will be considered by BCE to be sexual abuse of a student. Allegations or reasonable suspicions of grooming behaviour between an employee and a student will be considered by BCE to be likely sexual abuse. It is inappropriate for an employee to have a romantic relationship with a student and BCE may also consider it to amount to likely sexual abuse of a student.

An employee must not engage in the following conduct with students:

- jokes of an inappropriate or sexual nature
- inappropriate touching
- undressing in front of students
- inappropriately communicating to students the sexual behaviour of others
- possession, distribution or display of pornography
- inappropriate conversations of a sexual nature including sharing information about sexual relationships and sexual preferences
- sexual exhibitionism
- communications that are sexually explicit or offensive
- personal communications about the employee's romantic or sexual feelings for the student or others
- holding conversations of a personal nature with a student where disclosures of private or personal information about themselves are made
- flirting with a student
- using obscene language or gestures of a sexual nature.

- 17.4 The obligation of an employee not to engage in a sexual relationship or inappropriate relationship with a student, does not cease when the student turns 18 years of age or leaves school or the employee ceases employment with BCE. The obligation continues to apply to an employee for a significant time after the employee/student relationship ceases. Employees should be very wary about entering into a romantic or sexual relationship with a former student, especially in the first few years after the cessation of the employee/student relationship. Employees should seek assistance or further clarification of their obligations by emailing BCE at codeofconduct@bne.catholic.edu.au
- 17.5 If an employee has a lawful sexual or romantic relationship with a student which existed before the employee commenced employment with BCE or any work in a school, the employee must immediately declare that relationship to their Principal/Manager by using the BCE Conflict of Interest Declaration Procedure. If an existing employee has a lawful relationship with a person who is not a student at a BCE school and then that person becomes a student at a BCE school, the employee must immediately declare that change in circumstance to their Principal/Manager by using the BCE Conflict of Interest Declaration Procedure.

Professional Behaviour of Employees

18. Student Protection and Safeguarding

- 18.1. BCE is committed to the safety and wellbeing of all students and the protection of students from harm and abuse. Protecting students must be at the heart of everything we do. BCE does not tolerate abuse or harm of students within BCE or the community. Employees must act immediately to prevent abuse and harm to students and respond appropriately to students who have been abused or harmed or are at risk of being abused or harmed.
- 18.2. BCE has set clear standards and boundaries which are contained in this Code for how each and every BCE employee should act with students. BCE is committed to upholding respectful behaviour towards students and all BCE employees are required by BCE to report behaviour towards students that may be contrary to this Code. This obligation to report cannot be delegated or transferred to another person. Employees must take action to keep students safe. Failure to report possible breaches of this Code or ignoring behaviours may place a student at risk of harm and may result in disciplinary action against the employee who fails to act.
- 18.3. Employees are required to familiarise themselves, and comply, with all BCE policies and procedures including the Child and Youth Risk Management Strategy implemented at their school.
- 18.4. The BCE Student Protection Processes provides a process for:

 - responding to allegations of inappropriate behaviour of an employee towards a student (including breach of a physical, emotional or behavioural boundary with a student by an employee).
- 18.5. All BCE employees must comply with the BCE Student Protection Processes (as amended and/or replaced from time to time), including making all reports required under that process. An employee has an obligation which cannot be delegated or transferred to another person, to report student protection concerns as required by law and/or BCE as the employer. Failure to uphold obligations to report may result in:
- appropriate action being taken by BCE, which may include disciplinary action; and/or
 - the employee breaching relevant legislation, which may include penalty being issued or prosecution commenced by the relevant authority against the employee.
- 18.6. Employees must complete all training relevant to the BCE Student Protection Processes and Safeguarding requirements, as required by the Student Protection Training policy or as otherwise directed.

Any employees requiring assistance or who have a concern about Student Protection or Safeguarding requirements should email codeofconduct@bne.catholic.edu.au.

- 19.4 Where there is any disagreement or conflict with parents/carers, employees must use their best endeavours to resolve the issues and employees must ensure that their behaviour is not derogatory, belittling, intimidating, rude or abusive.
- 19.5 Employees must not provide their personal email address, residential address, mobile or home telephone number to a student's parent/carer without appropriate professional reason. All written communications with parent/carer about students, the school and/or BCE are to be sent from the employee's BCE email account and are to be: professional, related to the student's learning and development or other school matter, and written in a way that promotes the reputation of BCE, the school and the employee.

Employees must, in their behaviour with parents/carers:

- be approachable, prompt and responsive
- treat parent/carers with consideration, respect and dignity
- respect cultural diversity
- be aware of and respect different family structures
- be tolerant of different opinions and perspectives
